

Enterprise™ Encrypted External Hard Drive

Military Grade Encryption Made Easy

The DataLocker Enterprise is a secure portable hard drive that offers hardware based, military-grade encryption.

The DataLocker Enterprise crypto engine and enclosure are FIPS 140-2 validated, issued by the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST). You can be assured that your compliance requirements are met and your data is secure.

No software is ever needed to manage, encrypt or deploy the DataLocker Enterprise.

Simply connect, authenticate with your personal passcode and go.

DataLocker Enterprise Features:

- Protects sensitive data from loss or theft through hardware based 256-bit AES CBC mode encryption
- Requires no software or drivers because all encryption and management functions are performed at the device level, 100% independent of the host computer
- Patented LCD touch screen display allows users to enter their password directly on the device
- Mitigates "shoulder surfing" PIN observation attacks and surface analysis through a rotating keypad

- Handles large volumes of data with up to 2 TB of storage
- Compatible with Windows, Mac and Linux
